Founded in 1952, Freehill Hogan & Mahar is a preeminent law firm with a worldwide practice focused on transportation, international trade, insurance and personal injury defense. For sixty years, we have produced practical solutions and successful results for our clients at a reasonable and fair cost. We remain committed to that goal.

For eight consecutive years FHM has been ranked in the top tier of New York maritime law firms by ChambersUSA. Since 2007, ChambersGlobal has listed the firm as one of the top dozen leading firms worldwide with a global practice in shipping law. In 2007 ChambersUSA proclaimed:

“For many the name Freehill is synonymous with shipping in New York, and commentators sing the firm’s praises, describing it as...
‘the best maritime firm in the country.’”

The firm has garnered similar accolades from Martindale-Hubbell, U.S. News & World Report and Best Lawyers. We intend to maintain the standard of performance which has brought this recognition.

Our philosophy of legal practice is to work hard and prepare well, in order to deliver a quality legal product at a reasonable and fair cost, all the while staying intently focused on the ultimate goal: a positive result for our clients. Reviews from our clients over the years validate that philosophy.

Clients and Sources Say

“Its leading position in the market is cemented by the ethics and integrity of its ‘intelligent, hard-working and dedicated players.’”

Chambers USA 2006

“This dynamic US practice provides ‘excellent quality, thoroughness and speed’ to its clients....Interviewees repeatedly underline the moderate approach, balanced negotiating style and ethical integrity of these ‘intelligent, hard-working and dedicated players.’ The lawyers possess the ‘foresight to cut through matters to get to solutions,’ according to sources.”

Chambers Global 2007

“With 18 partners considered to be ‘of the highest quality,’ including seven with considerable seafaring experience, Freehill stands out as one of the most recognizable names in the New York maritime industry. Few competitors are able to match the depth of resources that the firm possesses: its ‘mix of experienced and talented’ lawyers offer services that cover every aspect of traditional blue-water law, as well as some transactional maritime work.”

Chambers USA 2008

“Clients agree that the ‘top-drawer team’ is distinguished by its proactive and solution-oriented approach, and appreciate its excellent value for money.”

Chambers USA 2009

“The breadth of its practice is almost unrivaled.... Sources say ‘The firm has all the resources necessary to handle big litigation. The senior partners provide the wisdom and the younger lawyers provide the momentum to move the practice forward.’”

Chambers USA 2010

“Sources say: ‘We are sometimes flabbergasted by the innovation of the lawyers there: they keep on bringing different things and new methods.’”

Chambers Global 2010

“Freehill Hogan & Mahar has a reputation as a first-class admiralty firm. It has expanded its practice in recent years beyond pure shipping work, while maintaining its depth and expertise in maritime issues.”

Chambers USA 2011

“Sources say: ‘A US firm with an international reach.’”

Chambers Global 2011

“Undoubtedly one of the leading players in the New York maritime market, Freehill Hogan & Mahar has a talent for handling complex shipping litigation.”
